Latest update on DESIGN MTS - multistakeholder platform in the machine tool industry

The platform offers important tools, such as guidelines for the implementation of a strategic approach to CSR in machine tools companies and their supply chain; an on call and on-line help desk; free online training modules on CSR, which are available on the project platform (www.designmts.eu). As the project draws to a close in December 2014, the next challenge is to capitalise on these results to further encourage the adoption of CSR along industrial value chains and to promote stakeholder dialogue.

Read some reflections on the value of this project to the sector on the blog of Cecimo - the European Association of the Machine Tool Industries.
